Current term:
Vice-president

Distinctive qualities:
Able to popularize
Seizes opportunities

Why did you agree to sit on the CAE Board of Directors?

When I was approached, I must admit that I did not know CAE at all. I didn't know that this type of organization existed. Being new to business, I thought it was unfortunate that CAE wasn't better known to entrepreneurs in the region, and I decided to get involved to make them known.

" Money is the crux. The CAE's approach is very different from other traditional finance companies with which we are accustomed to doing business. "

- Olivier Marotte

Where do you see CAE in 5 years?

I think that CAE could become a financial partner in a greater number of companies, whether they are start-ups or growing, and in partnership with the other financial stakeholders in the region. We need to open our services to more companies because Quebec is the cradle of a rich entrepreneurial culture, and because it is these same companies that make up our collective wealth.
